Customer Instructions for Simca Gear Reduction Starter.

- 1) Rotate the end block by undoing the two Cap screws and rotate the aluminium end block to the correct location. Refit the two cap screws once the correct rotation is found.
- 2) Reconnect the original starter cable to the 10mm stud on the new starter and the small wire to the Internal solenoid connector.
- 3) It is good practice to mark the pinion teeth with a white marking pen, install the starter and engage the starter for a few engine revolutions and then remove the starter again to read the wear marks on the Pinion that will visible show you how well it is meshing in the flywheel.
